THE WORLD THIS WEEK

By ROBERT PATTERSON

"A New Spirit" In Japan

The new nationalist spirit sweeping Japan foretells the banishment of Christian missionaries from that country and possibly, in the near future, from the entire Far East. Eminent Christian Japanese, representing Catholics and several Protestant denominations have taken the initiative in a movement to sever all ties with churches in the Occident and to "integrate" Japan's one-third of a million Christians into one denomination. This is, of course, but part of a larger program to discourage all groups in Japan from maintaining religious ,cultural, or fraternal ties with the western world. The nationalist state demands total allegiance from all. It brooks no competitor for the loyalty and devotion of its people—not even Christianity. Totalitarian government, in Europe or the Orient, faithfully lives up to its name for it is total in all ways, even in demanding total faith to the state alone—or, when demanding it does not suffice, compelling it at gun point.

Siege of Britain

Behind the stout facade of censorship, little word has come through of the damage and casualties inflicted on Britain by the savage onslaught of the Nazi air force in the last few days. But the increasing ferocity of the attacks against the British Isles and particularly London, the vast heart of that nation's far-flung empire, indicates that the siege against Britain is fast approaching the now-or-never stage. In only a very short time, the Nazi high command knows a powerful ally is due to come to Britain's aid when October gales lash the English Channel, when autumnal fogs shroud the coast and countryside of England in a protective mantle, when chill air currents will sheathe the wings of planes with ice and snow. This ally, if it comes this year as it has come in past years, will seriously hamper the German attack, will ground planes, will leave England open to the view of bombers only on chance clear weather days. It is just four weeks until the time Old Man Winter usually unlooses his storms and mists over the British Isles. Will he show up this year on time—and in time?

A Look At The Record

Look at the behind-the-scenes record of those "healthy, strong nations" and a different picture emerges. The official German Year Book of 1939 reveals a comparison between the year 1934 (just after the Nazis came to power) and 1937 (when they were in full control) on the question of juvenile delinquency. It discloses: "Convictions rendered by the special tribunal for crimes and offenses committed by persons under 18 years, amounted in 1937 to 3,375 as against 1,058 in 1934, an increase of 125 per cent. The specific break-up includes the following: assault and battery causing death, 66 per cent;

So far the supply of technical graduates has been a little more than sufficient to meet the immediate demand, but now that the government is demanding such graduates for work in defense construction plants there are not enough to fill the places.

Chairman for the day was J. C. Agostinho.

Next week Tuesday the club will journey to Gilroy to attend a division meeting at which the lieutenant governor for 1941 will be elected.

Garden Is Setting For Austin-Block Wedding Saturday

Standing before a natural bower of vines and ferns with tall baskets of flowers and beside an attractive pool in the garden of her parents' home, Miss Myrrl L. Austin and Klaude F. Block exchanged marriage vows before a group of relatives and friends.

The ceremony took place Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with the Rev. J. H. Bennett officiating. The date chosen was the birthday of the bride's mother.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a soldier blue dress with hat and acces sories of matching color. Her corsage was Cecil Bruener roses and bouvardia and she wore a chain and watch that are family heirlooms.

The bride's maid, Miss Doris Young of Los Gatos wore a burgundy dress with corsage.

Little Myrrl Barbara Dutton, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. Harold Hanson of Saratoga served as best man.

The reception was held in doors and refreshments were served buffet style from a daintily appointed table, all in white.

Following the reception the bride and groom motored up the Redwood highway, and are continuing on to points of interest in Washington and upon their return will be in Campbell for the present at least.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Austin of North First street. She graduated from the local school and has been employed in the American Trust bank in San Jose for several years.

WANT TO BANISH CARE?

Want to get rid of that harassed feeling, want to escape, for at least a few hours, from a world consumed with thoughts of war, conscription, defense, and the fate of Britain?

We propose a remedy. We suggest that you corral the family and make a point of taking in at least one of the fine shows that California is staging this month. Probably there are unnumbered scores of stay-at-homes who have yet to take in their first county fair. California is offering plenty of fine ones this month. And not only county fairs! You'll find the September entertainment menu spiced with colorful historical pageants, rip-roaring rodeos and other festive happenings.. All of them are likely to stir your pride in the achievements of the Golden State and renew your affection for the color of its history and traditions.

Aside from these, there's the big show at Sacramento where the state fair holds forth until Sept. 9, and on Treasure Island stands the eye-filling World's Fair dispensing entertainment, education and glamor until the farewell curtain rings down on Sept. 29.

Obviously, there's no need to be a sit-by-the-fire brooder September comes to California bearing with it no end of worthwhile diversions guaranteed to banish dull care!

NEXT BALLOT DAY

It was a right fast vanishing from the face of this war-torn earth that California citizens exercised at the primaries the other day. And considering the few areas left where decency, tolerance, and the right to express one's choice freely by ballot still prevail, a disappointingly small number o f Californians took advantage of that right. Unofficial counts indicate about half of the state's three and one-half million voters failed to exercise their privilege of voting, a hard won birthright of free government that only struggles, bloodshed and suffering achieved. And it may take long struggle, bloodshed and suffering to preserve it, and the freedom of which it is a part. Next ballot day is November 5. Remember it —and vote!

ADMISSION DAY

Yes, California's ninety years young next Monday — as a state. But as a place fabled in legend and sought for by the fortune-hunters of several nations, her history goes back centuries. The land of El Dorado is no such newcomer as the years of her statehood would suggest. Her coastline was being explored by the white-sailed caravels of Cabrillo four centuries ago; 28 years before the first colonists arrived at Jamestown a California harbor gave shelter to the storm-wracked ships of Sir Francis Drake's expedition. And before California won statehood on Sept. 8, 1850, before the gold rush stampede launched her first big boom era, its wealth and its fame had already led four nations to unfurl their flags over California

In fame and in wealth, in resources, in scenic splendor, and in the vision and spirit that a vanished western frontier has left still stamped on its people of today, California has reached no ebb tide. A glamorous queen rich in memories and years, California can view a birthday cake of 90 candles confident t he best years of her life are yet to come!

OUR ALIENS REGISTER

Doubtless many of the country's 3,600,000 alien residents, already on the march to the nation's post offices to be registered and fingerprinted, will feel that this stern measure is a reflection on thei rloyalty to this country.

In ordinary imes, they would be right. But these, they must agree, are not ordinary times. Events abroad have shown, with appalling clearness, that stern measures must be taken to check treachery, espionage and other activities if a nation is to preserve its independence. Although the great majority of the nation's foreign born are loyal to the flag of the United States and to the republic for which it stands, this majoriy will admit that some of their numbers have no such love or respect for this country. On the contrary, this minority has sought to sow seeds of disunity, hatred a nd confusion in our midst. It is to check up on t his hostile minority and to give protection o the deserving majority, that he alien registration bill has been passed.

Fingerprinting is no shameful indignity reserved exclusively for aliens and law violators. All federal civil service workers are fingerprinted as a matter of course. So, in the last war, was every man serving in the army, navy, or marine corps And it may well be only a v ery short time until all United States citizens are required to be fingerprinted.

Uncle Sam's friendly efforts to check up on who is who among the 3,600,000 non-citizens living in his vast household deserves the wholehearted cooperation of his guests.

THE KING OF FRANCE

A handsome man, with fine eyes, a goatee and military mustaches, died last week in Tangiers. He was the Duke de Guise with blood so blue it could be used in fountain pens; and to a few dreaming French royalists he was King of France. To those worshipful royalists the Duke de Guise was a wronged man, who lived as an unhappy exile, deprived of his ancient "divine right" to the "throne" of troubled France.

As to the "King" himself, one wonders whether he wasn't pulling the royalist faction's collective leg! All his life, the "King" lived peacefully and at his ease on kingly estates in Tangiers. Quiet and undisturbed in his "sad" exile, he saw thrones collapse, kings flee, nations overthrown. In his last picture the 66-year-old exile's intelligent face expressed contentment, p eace and a sly complacence. It was probably okay with him that his title of "King" of France always had quote marks around the "King."

BALKAN BICKERING

War clouds rising from the Balkans attest that the ancient hatreds in Europe's backyard are still dangerously smoldering, ready at any unpredictable moment to break forth explosively. There are no signs that the age-old quarrels among its people are subsiding, even in the fact of common danger or a common enemy Their mutual jealousies and deep-seated distrust of each other have merely provided the strings for powers stronger than themselves to manipulate them like puppets. Having been unable to achieve the unity that would give them some show of independence and strength, they are likely before long to have an ironclad unity thrust upon t hem either by the Nazis or Soviets—at the complete loss of their independence and strength.

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Shock troops of the state legislature, in the defense setup, are eight lawmakers named as a special sub-committee to work with the board of experts which is mobilizing industrial California for any period of emergency.

The legislature's "minute men" are Senator John Phillips of Banning, Senator Roy J. Nielsen of Sacramento, Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville (President Pro Tem of the Senate), Assemblywoman Jeanette E. Daley of San Diego, Assemblyman C. Don Field of Los Angeles, Assemblyman Gordon H. Garland of Tulare county (Speaker of the Assembly), Assemblyman Frederick F. Houser of Los Angeles and Assemblyman Albert C. Wollenberg of San Francisco.

And that committee will recommend to the next legislature:

1. That the legislature enact a law barring all political parties from the ballot which do not subscribe to the principles of the American form of government.

2. That men called to the colors be protected in their employment in private life and that companies and firms affording such protection be given a special award for merit.

3. That a suitable bill be drafted to protect the employes of all governmental agencies in their right to return to employment after having served their country in a defense program.

4. That some satisfactory form of moratorium be decided upon to protect men, called to service, who are buying their homes under FHA, or some other plan of deferred payments.

5. That Treasure Island now the site of the Exposition, be maintained as an army or navy depot.

6. That steps be taken to protect California's huge oil storage tanks and pipe lines, in cooperation with the federal government.

7. That at least some of the ferries on San Francisco bay be retained as a standby service in the event the bridges are bombed, or otherwise rendered unserviceable.

Between now and Jnauary, when the legislature meets, there will doubtless be many other developments. But those, at least, are some of the steps which are now contemplated to fortify California's home defense.

Card of Thanks

To My Campbell Friends:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your kind help in my hour of trial. Willa loved each one of you, with never an unkind word for anyone.

Let us all derive a lesson from a girl who knew her life would be short. She left believing we would go on as we had planned. So now we find it easier to continue as she would want us to do.

We will be home on Campbell avenue when school opens.

Thanking you again from the bottom of my heart.

BORROW WISELY to Keep Your Home in Repair

WISE borrowing means moderate borrowing, for a useful purpose.

Among this bank's customers are many who are taking advantage of F.H.A. loans to keep their homes and other structures in good repair.

Not only homes, but flats, apartments, store buildings, etc., lose value quickly when needed painting, roofing, etc., are too long delayed.

Many buildings which had been bringing in low rents or standing idle, have been transformed by repairs and remodeling into profitable investments by means of F. H. A. modernization loans.

If your property needs minor repairs or extensive remodeling, we shall be glad to discuss the matter with you and to give you experienced and impartial loan counsel.

Fair Nears the "End of the Trail"

The end of Treasure Island as the picturesque setting of the Golden Gate International Exposition is near, for the fair closes September 29 and this beautiful scene will be no more. There still is time, however, to see Treasure Island, its color, its gardens, its illumination and its shows.

deliberate arson, 86 per cent; rape increase, 59 per cent; seduction of minors less than 14 years old, 81 per cent; homicide, 129 per cent; abortions of young girls under 18 258 per cent; vandalism, 43.5 per cent; extortion by threats of violence, 37 per cent. This, apparently, is something Dr. Goebbels has forgotten to tell us about. But by their signs ye shall know them!

Aliens In Dixies

Even a week of solemn, serious news has its lighter side. Hardly had alien registration begun before there came the story of the Florida postmaster who, ready for action, greeted his first customers—two Negroes. "Are you aliens?" he asked, "Yassum," they replied. "Where were you born?" asked Postmaster Lewis. "In Georgia," they answer. Now they know they belong.

Advertising IS Good News

Specially now, when the world is so full of strife, misery and anxiety, it's good to be able to get the pleasant news that comes in the ads.

About a light-hearted summer turban . . . sportswear coolly stolen from the men . . . a refreshing hot weather beverage . . .

A pipe that promises a smoke-treat . . . a light straw hat for the steaming brow . . .

The ads are reminders that life can't all be woe . . . reminders to be as normal and comfortable as possible . . . reminders to which you can sensibly respond. For the ads lead you to sound values.

TEMPORARY GASOLINE TAX TERMINATED IN MINNESOTA

Reduced September 1

Emergency Levies in Eleven Additional States to Expire Soon

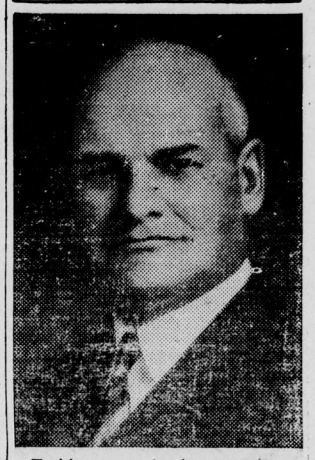
AUTOMOBILE clubs, tourist agencies, and oil company travel bureaus throughout the nation have been notified of a 1c reduction in the Minnesota gasoline tax, effective September 1. This reduction, the first emergency gasoline tax to be abolished since 1936 will save motorists an estimated $5,000,000 annually.

Expiration of similar emergency taxes are scheduled to occur in eleven other states in the next few years, states which now have temporary emergency gasoline taxes costing the nation's taxpayers an extra $83,196,400 annually. These states include Florida, Massachusetts, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, and West Virginia.

Minnesota's emergency tax went into effect in 1937, when the gasoline tax was increased 1c a gallon to raise money to match federal funds for highway construction, but Roy Dunn, majority leader of the Minnesota House of Representatives, who led the fight against reenactment of the emergency tax, pointed out that less highway construction was accomplished under the 4c gasoline tax rate than under the previous 3c per gallon tax.

Discussing his reasons for sponsoring the abolition of the emergency gasoline tax, Mr. Dunn said, "Somewhere, sometime, somehow, we must start cutting taxes, and this temporary gas tax provided a good beginning. Here was a tax which could be abolished without replacing it with another tax. Reasonable limitation of revenue is a practical factor in prompt correction of extravagance and waste and in the creation of a foundation of efficiency and accomplishment for the future.

ROY DUNN



To him a promise is a promise.

"We had promised the motorists of the state that the emergency gasoline tax was to be only a temporary measure, and I, for one, believe that promise should be kept. Too often there is a tendency for legislatures to break faith with the people by voting temporary taxes and then perpetuating them by reenacting them year after year as they expire, or even by making them permanent. That practice may be questioned as being incompatible with the principles of old-fashioned honesty."

As a result of the tax decrease petroleum marketers in Minnesota are currently announcing a corresponding 1c per gallon reduction in the price of gasoline to their dealers and consumers on September 1. They point out that motorists will save about $1,560,000 in the remaining months of this year and about $5,000,000 a year thereafter.

Large Audience Witnesses Plays

A complimentary audience both as to number and comments on the three one-act plays presented Friday night by The Footlighters in the Campbell grammar school auditorium.

"The Tom Thumb Wedding" passed off without a hitch and elicited much praise for the little participants and their coach, Mrs. Archie Keesling, who had also directed the two adult plays.

The costuming of the wedding party and the audience was very effective and the production is worthy of repetition.

In the adult plays, characters were very well cast, no one player standing out as a "star," with others as a background, but all doing equally well.

Now the group has started study of the Ayn Rand drama "The Night of January 16," which they will present for the benefit of the Campbell Union High School P.-T. A., probably on Friday night, Oct. 25.

J. D. BLAINE FAMILY ENTERTAINS GUESTS

Last Friday evening the John Blaines netertained for an evening of talk about schools, Dr. Edwin D. Starbuck, the distinguished psychologist who has been conducting research at San Jose State college, and his daughter, Dr. Winifred Starbuck Scott, and his son-in-law, Dr. Cecil W. Scott, of the University of Nebraska.

The Starbuck's are old friends of Mrs. Lillian Voge, who once accompanied the family on a trip to Europe; and Mrs. Voge was present last Friday evening and took part in the discussion.

These educators expressed the opinion that schools are too far separated from real life. Dr. Cecil Cecil Scott, who is a high school principal, suggested that most promising of all new methods for high schools is the one being used in the south and in New York City, letting students work in actual jobs for half of the school day.

Mrs. Milton Herold and children left today for a vacation at Santa Cruz.

YOUR CHILD CAN STUDY BETTER WITH BETTER LIGHT FOR BETTER SIGHT

September with school and study means more than just books, new shoes and new clothes.

For instance, are young eyes ready to stand the strain of long hours of study? If eyestrain is threatening, have eyes examined by an eye specialist. Then check the lighting by which the student must see to study.

Why take a chance with ordinary light that merely looks good enough for a child's study desk? One easy way to provide grade A light for grade A study is with an I.E.S. Study Lamp. Those lamps provide a generous amount of soft, glareless light that makes seeing easy. Incidentally, you'll find better light helpful yourself. Try it and you'll want it for the whole family.
